3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the cited prior arts teach that a tone generator is utilized in location reporting unit to decode the output of the GPS receiver and to translate this output into a DTMF tones. The location coordinates can be translated into DTMF coding to report the location of the communication device.

On the other hand, the Applicant teaches, inter alia, modifying a selected subset of the plurality of signal tones, wherein the selected subset comprises signal tones having a frequency within a predetermined range of frequencies; decoding the modified signal tones into a plurality of decoded values; and determining a location of a user based on at least the plurality of decoded values. These limitations, in conjunction with all the limitations of the independent claims, have not been disclosed, taught, or made obvious over the prior art of record.
